FEATURED OPTION: Auto Inflation System w/Axle Heat Sensor

A highly recommended upgrade, though not essential for operation, is the auto inflation system with axle heat sensor. It ensures tires remain at the correct PSI while the truck is running and the trailer is connected, even if they develop a slow leak from a nail or rock. This system monitors air pressure, providing visual alerts to the operator if any issues arise. Additionally, it monitors axle temperatures to help prevent bearing overheating.

- Reduces chance of fire on vehicle itself or unintentionally igniting roadside brush
- Reduces road service calls (fewer flats save time and money)
- Reduces DOT fines for flat tires
- Reduces costly axle damage
- Increases tire life expectancy by as much as 10%
- Increases ability to recap tires (casings are not destroyed)
- Average fuel savings of 1%
